One university, three campuses

Bielefeld UAS is located in the beautiful region of East Westphalia-Lippe (Ostwestfalen-Lippe, OWL for short). Located in the northeast of North Rhine-Westphalia, the region consists of medium-sized cities and rural areas. It is well-known for its furniture, as well as machine and automation engineering industries.

Bielefeld UAS is divided into three venues in the cities of Bielefeld, Minden and Gütersloh. Students study in one of the venues depending on their course of study.

Due to Bielefeld UAS’s close cooperation with regional and trans-regional businesses, students have the opportunity to participate actively in professional life. From the earliest stages of their studies, students apply the theoretical knowledge acquired in lectures, seminars and tutorials in projects and periods of practical training. Most degree courses’ curricula at Bielefeld UAS include an internship. Therefore, students usually establish beneficial contacts with potential employers. This is a huge advantage on the job market once they have completed their studies.
Preparations for Your Stay at Bielefeld UAS
This chapter helps you to prepare for your stay at Bielefeld UAS. You will also find a checklist at the end of this guide.

Getting Familiar with Germany

Germany is colourful, diverse and exciting. So is the German higher education system. In order to support you with your start at a German university as well as your arrival in Bielefeld, we invite you to take a quick and fun information course:

- Broaden your horizon at Bielefeld UAS - Benefits of studying in Germany:
  - Website

Visa or No Visa?

Whether you need a visa for your entry into Germany and for living and studying here, depends on which country you originate from and for how long you plan to stay in Germany.

Your home country is

- an EU member country, Iceland, Liechtenstein, Norway or Switzerland?
  You are exempt from visa requirements and only need a valid personal identification card to enter Germany.

- a Non-EU/non-EEA country?
  In most cases, you will require a visa to study at Bielefeld UAS. However, there are special regulations for certain states. Citizens from Australia, Canada, Israel, Japan, New Zealand, South Korea and the United States, for example, may obtain a visa after arriving.

Please see the following websites for further information on visa requirements/exemptions for entry into the Federal Republic of Germany and types of visas:

- Visa and residence permit:
  - Website
  - Overview of visa requirements/exemptions

Visa regulations:

- Website

Visa and entry requirements are very complex! Please check the official website of the German Embassy or a German Consulate in your home country to see if a visa is required and for further information on application requirements and procedures.

You can also check the website of the Federal Foreign Office at:

- Website

Health Insurance

Having a health insurance is compulsory in Germany. In order to enrol at Bielefeld UAS, you must possess health insurance that is valid for Germany. Please check with your insurance provider at home whether they cover you during your studies at Bielefeld UAS. A rule-of-thumb: A private insurance from abroad is only sufficient as student insurance when it has unlimited coverage, e.g. your insurance must cover all expenses in case of illness with no cost limitations. Your health insurance is valid for your studies in Germany if you have a European Health Insurance Card (EHIC). If you are from Turkey, Serbia or Tunisia: These countries have an agreement with Germany. You will need to ask your home insurance for a special form (e.g. for Turkey it’s called an AT11-form). This document is also accepted for your studies in Germany. However, if you are planning on working in Germany while studying, you will need to apply for German health insurance, no matter where you are from.

If you need to take out German health insurance, you will have a choice between public (or statutory) and private health insurance. Public health insurance is usually the better choice: It offers low rates (usually approx. 120 € a month) for students and pays doctors and pharmacies directly for any services you need to use. There is no cap on expenses, i.e. necessary health treatments will be covered no matter what the cost. Public German health insurance will be accepted for enrolment, no matter which provider you choose.

Private health insurances will only be accepted for enrolment if their policy is comparable to a public health insurance. This is often not the case: A private health insurance may not pay for necessary treatments in every case, or they may refuse payment past a certain sum (so that you would have to pay the rest yourself). You should also know that private health insurance companies do not settle bills with the doctor or hospital directly, but with you. This means that you need to pay for any doctor’s visits first and then apply to the insurance company for reimbursement. Also, please note: Once you take out private health insurance you cannot revert to public health insurance.

It is possible to purchase a German health insurance policy online. Kindly bear in mind that travel health insurance is not sufficient and will not be accepted.

Other types of insurance

It is advisable to take out liability insurance covering damages you might cause while living in Germany. If you drive your own car during your stay, car insurance is mandatory.

The DAAD (German Academic Exchange Service) website offers more information on health insurance:

- Website

Semester Contribution and Semester Ticket

The semester contribution is a mandatory sum that you have to pay in order to be able to study at Bielefeld UAS. It currently amounts to approx. €320 per semester at our institution. Please note that this is not a tuition fee! It is a contribution covering administration and other student services. It helps to finance all of the facilities of the student service organisation Studierendenwerk (e.g. cafeteria, student residences, day care centres) as well as the Student Union (AStA). It also includes the cost of the semester ticket (travel card).

Three to five working days after you have paid the semester contribution, you will be able to download your semester ticket. It is valid for the period of your study term (1 September-28 February or 1 March-31 August) and enables you to use public transportation in the greater area of Bielefeld/Minden/Gütersloh. In order for your semester ticket to be valid, you need to carry your ID card/passport and an (electronic) copy of your semester ticket. If you do not have the semester ticket with you and cannot identify yourself during a ticket inspection, you will be obligated to pay a fine.

Bielefeld UAS has published information on how to download your semester ticket here:
  ➤ https://t1p.de/3u3ob

The semester ticket allows you to use all local public transportation ( Nahverkehr ) in the state of North Rhine-Westphalia ( NRW ), including buses, trams, city railways and local trains ( e.g. the Regionalbahn [ RB ], the S-Bahn and the Regionalexpress [ RE ] ). The faster long-distance trains, e.g. the InterCity ( IC ), EuroCity ( EC ) or InterCityExpress ( ICE ), need to be paid for separately. There are also some specific regulations concerning night buses, airport buses and dial-a-ride transits which may be subject to an additional charge.

The public transportation group of the Student Union ( ASTA ) of Bielefeld University has all important information on the semester ticket’s area of validity on their website:
  ➤ https://www.verkehrsguppe.de/english-info/

Arriving at Campus

Take care to plan your arrival so that you arrive either
• in the beginning of March (summer semester)
• or in the beginning of September (winter semester).

You will also receive a letter/e-mail with the dates of your expected arrival and/or the date of the orientation period. As an international exchange student, please arrive according to the dates specified because the Freshers’ Weeks will help you in sorting out formalities and other requirements for your stay. If that is too early for you, try to arrive by the middle of March/September since the lecture periods will be starting then. As an international degree-seeking student, you will participate in the orientation week specifically organised for your respective degree course taking place in the first week of the lecture period.

By plane
All airports in Germany generally have a good connection to public transport. Closest to Bielefeld, Minden or Gütersloh are the international airports listed below ( approximate distance in km ):

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Airport</th>
<th>Bielefeld</th>

</table>

Enquire about special offers for students and about connections via bus or train from the airport to Bielefeld, Gütersloh or Minden. If you have already paid the semester contribution for your study term, you can download your semester ticket and use public transportation within NRW to get to Bielefeld, Gütersloh or Minden free of charge.

By train
In Germany we have a well-developed train network. Inform yourself about train connections and consider the saver fares for students as well as regional day tickets and Quer-durchs-Land Tickets (train tickets for the whole country, valid for one day). If necessary, you can buy a train ticket immediately before boarding, but booking in advance may be cheaper.

Your exit stop is either Bielefeld or Gütersloh Hauptbahnhof ( Central Station ) or Minden ( Westfalen ). Here you will be welcomed by your Buddy, given that you got in touch with the International Office and/or your Buddy in time and told us about the date and time of your arrival.

For further information on travelling by train see:
  ➤ https://www.bahn.com/entsle

By long-distance bus
You can also travel Germany by long-distance bus. This is an inexpensive option and you do not have to switch transportation so often. However, only certain cities are covered by long-distance bus routes. This option is not suitable for travelling to smaller towns as long-distance bus companies generally target bigger cities. Please note: Trips with long-distance buses need to be booked in advance at least a day before you travel.

On the following website you will find any information you need for travelling by bus:

Accommodation

Finding accommodation is often difficult, especially in Germany where there are more students than available dormitories. We do our best to offer exchange students a room or an apartment in one of the student residences, but that is not always possible.

If you are at Bielefeld UAS for a short stay, approximately one or two semesters, you will receive an offer from us, provided either by the Studierendenwerk or by a private property owner. If you turn it down, you will need to look for a place to stay on your own.

As an international degree-seeking student, you can browse the homepage of the Studierendenwerk for information on accommodation. Please bear in mind, however, that these rooms are highly sought after. There usually is a long waiting list for student dorms, depending on the type of housing you are looking for. In order to find adequate accommodation according to your needs, you should ask yourself the following questions beforehand: How much money am I able to pay for accommodation? Do I want to live in a dormitory or in a shared flat (Wohngemeinschaft, WG for short)?

Student residences
The Studierendenwerk Bielefeld administers student dormitories in the area. The buildings are located in close proximity to the university and UAS, the monthly rent is roughly € 300.

The BUDDY Programme

What is the BUDDY Programme?
Coming to live in another country and a different culture can be frightening. The first few weeks especially may be confusing and it is good to have someone to show you your way around. The Buddy Programme offered by the International Office is designed to help you settle in more comfortably and smoothly. Since 1999, our Buddies, experienced German students who are familiar with student life, have been helping international students by:

- contacting you before your arrival in Germany (via e-mail)
- picking you up from the train or bus station on your first day
- providing help with important formalities (registration office, student union, bank account)
- giving a first introduction to Bielefeld UAS and the faculty at which you are studying
- offering support in everyday life (shopping facilities, sports and free time activities, etc.)

When will I hear from my Buddy?
Your Buddy will contact you approx. four weeks before your arrival to help you solve any problems you may have and to answer your queries along the way. Your Buddy will be the first person you can go to if you have any questions regarding life and your studies at Bielefeld UAS.
After Arrival
Freshers’ Weeks and the First Steps
Freshers’ Weeks for International Exchange Students

During the first days after your arrival, your Buddy and the International Office Team will help you get settled into your life in Bielefeld. Within our orientation period, called Freshers’ Weeks, you will not only have plenty of time to get to know your fellow students, but we will also assist you in getting the most important formalities out of the way, such as accessing your accommodation, signing the rental contract, opening a bank account and getting registered at Town Hall.

Before your arrival, you will receive an e-mail with the programme of the Freshers’ Weeks and the activities that await you. Please plan your arrival accordingly. If it is not possible for you to attend the Freshers’ Weeks, you will still have to take care of the following organisational matters. Your Buddy will assist you with these:

Registering at Town Hall

Like any regular citizen in Germany you have to get registered at Town Hall within two weeks of your arrival. Citizen Registration can only be done by appointment. Appointments can be booked exclusively online: https://t1p.de/7e4j

Your buddy will help you do make an appointment. Please note that you need to bring the following documents:

- Your passport or ID
- Your visa (if required)
- Your German address
- Your German landlord confirmation.

At Town Hall, you will receive registration confirmation needed for your residence permit and for the extension of your visa (if applicable). One week before you leave Germany and return home, you need to give notice of your departure at Town Hall.

Applying for a Residence Permit

Who needs a residence permit?

This does not apply to citizens of an EU country, Iceland, Liechtenstein, Norway or Switzerland. If you are a citizen from a non-EU country who is registered for a full degree at a university in the EU and would like to come to Germany for a short stay (exchange), the REST guideline applies to you.

In all other cases, the following regulation applies: If your stay extends a time period of 90 days, you need to apply for a residence permit during the first three months at the Foreigner’s Office at your place of study.

Which documents do you need to bring?

Please prepare and bring the following documents:

- Valid passport and (if necessary) visa
- Registration confirmation from the Residents’ Registration Office/Town Hall
- Proof of public or private health insurance
- Student ID (Certificate of Enrolment)
- If necessary, proof of finance (this may have already been checked during your visa application)
- If necessary, your rental agreement
- (Biometrical) passport photograph
- A sufficient amount of money in cash (see REST regulation on the following page).

Opening a bank account

During the Freshers’ Weeks you will get assistance in opening a bank account. This is relevant especially for students from countries outside the EU, who need to pay charges for every money transfer. If this is applicable to your situation, please open a German bank account on your own with the help of your Buddy. There is a number of banks in Bielefeld with different conditions and rates. Check them out before deciding.
The REST regulation

The REST regulation is relevant to you if you are a citizen of a non-EU country who already possesses a residence permit for study purposes in an EU state. If you are registered for a full degree (BA or MA) at a university in the EU, for example in France, and would like to study for one or two exchange semesters at Bielefeld UAS, you do not have to turn to the German Embassy for an additional visa for your stay in Germany. Bielefeld UAS’s International Office Team will sort things out for you. To do this, we need the following documents from you as soon as your stay has been approved:

- Existing residence permit for the state of your home university
- Proof of subsistence: Accepted as proof is either a.) a scholarship of at least €861 a month or b.) a blocked account with a minimum balance of €5,166 (for one semester) or €10,332 (for two semesters).

The sooner you make these documents available to us, the better: The REST approval will take 4-6 weeks to process.

“Bielefeld UAS has an incredibly nice learning programme for Erasmus students in German and in English. In Bielefeld I feel at home.”

Courses, Credits and Transcripts

Modules and credit points
One study cycle (Bachelor or Master) is made up of modules containing a certain number of lectures and/or academic courses relating to the module’s topic that need to be completed successfully in order to finish the module. Normally, one module is designed to cover one or two semester’s worth of work. Only when all study modules are completed successfully will students be awarded with a degree. For the completion of an individual lecture or course, students obtain a certain number of credit points. One credit point equals about 30 hours of work.

After completing an exchange semester at Bielefeld UAS, you will receive a transcript of records in which all your achievements are listed with the respective grades. The original transcript of records will be sent by post to the coordinator at your home university. You will also receive an electronic copy by e-mail.

Lectures and course organisation
There are different lecture and course formats offered at Bielefeld UAS:

- Lectures (Vorlesungen)
- Seminars (Seminare)
- Courses (Kurse)
- Tutorials (Tutorien)
- Exercises (Übungen)
- Colloquia (Kolloquium)
- Work in the Laboratory (Praktikum)

In Germany, students like to set up study groups for revising together or for working on a presentation or group project.

Accessing the course catalogue
At Bielefeld UAS, the learning platform LSF is used as an online service for all matters related to exams, the course catalogue and setting up a timetable. Without log-in data you can only access some of its functions, e.g. the current course catalogue. After receiving your FH log-in data, you can also set up your schedule or view your grades.

The following link leads you directly to the English module catalogues:
↗ https://t1p.de/68xs9
Examinations
Lectures and courses can be divided into those that can be completed without an exam of some kind (attendance only) and those for which you need to sit an oral or written examination, do a presentation or write a paper. For some examinations, you need to sign up in advance within a specific time frame. Please pay close attention if this is the case with your exams. The results of your exams will either be sent to you via e-mail or you will find them on LSF.

Here is the link for accessing LSF log-in page:

ASTA offers advice in social matters, arrange contacts to legal advisors and support students with all problems and questions concerning student life.

Medical Care

The German health system is one of the best in the world. Should you fall ill during your stay, you are in capable hands. You should generally see a GP first; only in emergencies should you go to the hospital directly.

There are a few points you should know beforehand:

- If you go to see a doctor, take care to show your European Health Insurance Card or a certificate of sufficient insurance at the reception. Many practices request patients to give them a phone call first before going to the practice.
- Most medical practices are closed on Wednesdays and Friday afternoons. To ensure that you receive medical care during these times, medical practices and pharmacies have established emergency services that will help you if you are hurt or sick.
- Medication is always available in pharmacies. There may be a prescription fee of up to €10 for prescribed drugs and medication you can buy without a prescription may cost more, depending on the medication.
- If you have public health insurance, a visit to the doctor does not cause additional costs. With private health insurance, you need to pay the bills for treatment and medication in advance. Afterwards you hand in the bills to your insurance provider and should then be reimbursed.

In case of emergency

Depending on the emergency, either call the police or the fire department/emergency doctor!

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Police</th>
<th>110</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Fire department and emergency doctor</td>
<td>112</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

These emergency numbers are cost-free and you can call them even if you may not have sufficient credit on your mobile phone. It might be a good idea to memorise the above numbers or save them in your phone. You should also set up an ICE (in case of emergency) contact on your phone – by adding ICE to your mobile phone it allows paramedics on the scene to identify you, treat you and be able to contact your next of kin immediately.

German Etiquette: Du or Sie?

A tricky question! As a rule, you can use the polite form of address “Sie” if you speak to unknown, older people or to a person of higher status. This also applies to officials and at work. Here you only switch to “Du” when the older person or higher status offers it. However, students, adolescents and children say “Du” to each other in Germany, so here you do not need to worry. If you are not really sure how to address someone, better opt for “Sie”. That way you are on the safe side and no one feels offended.

Living Expenses

In comparison to other countries, the cost of living in Germany is moderate. A student’s monthly living costs statistically amount to approximately €870. The actual costs depend, of course, on your personal style of living and your accommodation, since rent is usually the largest item on the bill. Your student ID grants you numerous benefits and savings opportunities, e.g. at restaurants, clubs, public transportation and in the domain of cultural and leisure time activities.

You can find a list with average costs of living on our website:

https://t1p.de/cdncct

Work Permit

Many students have a part-time job to earn extra money. If money is tight or if you are looking for some work experience, you too might consider looking for a job. Before you start the job hunt, however, you need to be sure that you are legally allowed to work in Germany.

Learning German and other languages

While you are in Germany, you will have many opportunities to either improve your German or to start learning it – whether with your fellow students, with your professors, while doing sports or at the supermarket. However, it is generally a good idea to also attend a language course so that you return home with the feeling of having improved your German on all levels.

Of course you can also invest some time in improving or learning other foreign languages. The following institutions offer different kinds of language courses (in addition you will find a number of private language schools when searching the internet).

At Bielefeld UAS

Bielefeld UAS offers a digital approach to learning German and other languages; with the help of the e-learning programme “ILIAS” you can improve your language skills on your own. This way of learning requires a certain amount of self-discipline, but it is free and you have the advantage of not having to attend a course; you can learn at home whenever and wherever you like (as long as you have a computer and internet access) and the programme picks things up where you left them.

Just visit the website below and start improving your language skills:

https://t1p.de/cobc7

For international exchange students there will also be an intensive language course during the Freshers’ Weeks. German courses are also offered to prepare students for their studies.

For more information please visit:

https://t1p.de/5aec
At Bielefeld University
If you would like to improve your other language skills, Bielefeld University offers various language courses in 15 languages in which students of Bielefeld UAS can participate.

You will find further information on the following website:
https://t1p.de/r71b

Volkshochschule
Volkshochschule (VHS) offers a broad scope of low-cost classes and workshops, among them courses on languages, recreation, career training, etc. VHS also offers German language courses for all levels. Those courses usually take place once a week. VHS offers its courses by semester, too; here, the summer semester starts in February and ends in June and the winter semester lasts from September to January.

Bielefeld
In Bielefeld, there are many different ways to spend your free time. In the following, you will find a selection of events and activities that you can rely on when looking for a way to spend your free time.

Theatre
The main theatrical institution in Bielefeld is the Stadttheater. Its main building is located next to Town Hall. The repertoire offered covers song, dance, drama and concerts. At the TaM (Theater am alten Markt/Theatre at the old market), the other building of the Stadttheater, mostly drama is performed. One focus of Stadttheater Bielefeld lies on staging minor productions by young and recently debuted playwrights. These productions are less expensive than the main, “classical” productions but do not lack in quality.

For those of you who favour classical music, the Bielefelder Philharmonie is the place to be. Here you can spend your evenings listening to Brahms, Bach, Ravel, etc., indulge in various operas and operettas and enjoy musical dramas produced in cooperation with the Stadttheater.

Other theatrical companies that might be worth taking notice of are the Komödie Bielefeld, the Alarmtheater, the Theaterlabor and the Niekamp Theater Company, the latter being – interestingly enough – a puppet theatre with performances for young and old.

The University of Bielefeld also features a great range of theatrical groups. Take particular notice of the English Drama Group since their performances are entirely in English. If the duration of your stay allows for it, you may even consider taking part in one of their productions! Plays staged by the university's theatrical groups usually take place at the end of the semester.

Cinemas
There are a number of cinemas in Bielefeld, some of them multiplexes, others small art house cinemas. In Germany, most foreign films are dubbed and only rarely shown in the original version. But some of the cinemas offer regular screenings of films in their original version so that you should be able to watch some films in English, Spanish, French or Turkish (check out their websites for more information).

Bars and restaurants
Bielefeld has a great number of bars and restaurants. What you will not find here is a wide selection of international food takeaways, but the restaurant scene fills this slot to a great extent. Apart from the usual places offering Italian, German, Spanish and Greek cuisine, there are restaurants where you can get Asian, African, but also Mexican and Argentine food.

Bars and pubs are available to everyone’s gusto; next to stylish bars there is quite a number of Studentenkneipen (student bars) where the atmosphere is cosy and the drinks are affordable.
Discothèques
You like dancing or just listening to music, tapping your toes? Then you will find a club to your liking. Whether electro, house, alternative, rock, funk, pop, folk, Bielefeld has clubs for nearly all musical genres. Ask your fellow students where they like to go or just go with the flow.

Museums
Visiting a museum is always a good idea, especially on grey and rainy afternoons. Besides the regular facilities such as the Historisches Museum (Museum of History), the Kunsthalle (Museum of Modern Art) and the namu (Museum of History), the Kunsthalle (Museum of Natural History), you can visit the Sparrenburg for an insight into Bielefeld’s medieval time, go see the Bauernhausmuseum and get a feeling of rural life around 1850, or explore the Dr. Oetker Welt to get a taste of how this family business turned into one of the leading food companies in the world.

Other museums you might find interesting are: Museum Hülsmann – art and design from different epochs, especially the Renaissance, Baroque and Classicism.

Museum WäscheFabrik – an old linen factory that was preserved in its original state Museum/Archiv/Forum Arminia – museum and archive on Bielefeld’s football club Arminia Bielefeld.

For those of you interested in art and design there is a number of galleries in Bielefeld, among these the Gallery Artists Unlimited where young artists may find a place to live and exhibit their work.

LOOM
LOOM is a big shopping and leisure centre, which opened in October 2017. Around 110 national and international brand shops with retail space of more than 26,000 square metres await the visitor in the city centre of Bielefeld.

Hermannslauf
Interesting for all those into sporting activities is the Hermannslauf, a fun run covering a distance of 31.1 km. The tour starts at the impressive site Hermannsdenkmal in Detmold and ends at the Sparrenburg in Bielefeld. If you are here during that time and fit enough to participate, you are in for a memorable experience and a unique way of exploring the OWL (East Wesphalia-Lippe) region. Watching and cheering the runners go along the route, however, is great fun as well. The event takes place on the last Sunday of April; registration is possible at the beginning of the year.

For further information see:
☞ https://hermannslauf.de/

Leineweber-Markt
The Leineweber-Markt takes place usually in May in the “Altstadt”, Bielefeld’s old town centre. A mix of open-air performances, street theatre, cabaret, musical shows and street food attract people from the whole region and are always worth a visit.

You will find more details on the following website:
☞ https://www.bielefeld.jetzt/leineweber

Carnival of Cultures (Carnival der Kulturen)
Once a year in June, Bielefeld celebrates its colourful and diverse self at the international festival Carnival der Kulturen. Over 2,000 participants and 70 groups parade through the streets and present their rich cultural heritage (e.g. fascinating masks, costumes and amazing installations). The final show with live music and performances takes place at the Kesselbrink.

If you are interested in visiting Carnival of Cultures go here for more information:

Sparrenburgfest
For one weekend in July, the Sparrenburg moves back in time and shows itself in its most lively and fantastical medieval fashion. Young and old are invited to enjoy the historical festival with its charming performances and food and drink from medieval times.

Wine Fair (Weinmarkt)
For a few days in September, the Alter Markt transforms into a wine market where various vintners and wine merchants present the finest wines from Germany’s wine growing regions. And the best news is – you are welcome to taste these finest wines!

☞ www.bielefeld.jetzt/weinmarkt

Christmas market (Weihnachtsmarkt)
An absolute must in December are the Christmas markets that pop up all over Germany. Besides Bielefeld, where the Christmas market centres on the Alter Markt, visits to Münster and Osnabrück and further to Cologne, Hanover, Dresden and Nuremberg are definitely worthwhile. A special hint for you: before going to the Christmas market in Bielefeld, watch the German film “Feuerzangenbowle” (the title translates to “brandy punch”) and then go and have yourself a Feuerzangenbowle at the Christmas market. It is quite a tradition in Germany and the university’s movie theatre (Campusfilm) usually shows this film sometime in December, too.

Gütersloh

The first thing you associate with Gütersloh is likely to be its lively landscape of medium-sized businesses. But this is not all Gütersloh has to offer, and as you will see, the events taking place in the city tend to be one-of-a-kind.

In Gütersloh, transportation vehicles are a big theme. Not only old bicycles but also motorcars draw the attention of its inhabitants. The annual ADAC Rallye Ostwestfalen Historic “Mense Trophy” is an oldtimer (and youngtimer) rallye for all who enjoy their own four wheels and care for a special outing.

Aside from the more familiar Weinmarkt (Wine Fair) around Pentecost, the people of Gütersloh also enjoy the freshly spawned tradition of the Tweed Run. Clothed in British-style tweed, ladies and gentlemen gather for a ride through the city. Their costumes and the historical, retro and vintage bicycles create the feeling of travelling back in time.

In springtime, the city blooms during the Gütersloher Frühling. Dressed in colourful flowers and bedecked with a programme rich in variety, Gütersloh shakes off its sleepiness and embraces the newly blossoming year.

Last but not least Gütersloh – as the city of Bertelsmann’s famous (no longer existing) book club – hosts an event that draws all bibliophiles and lovers of the written (and the spoken) word into the city: the so-called Lesestadt Gütersloh. During the ten festival days, the city centre turns into one great stage for its honorary citizen, the book. Readings, performances and discussions on, with and for the book make Lesestadt Gütersloh an important part of the city’s cultural landscape.

Mindener Freischießen. In the 17th century, the city of Minden selected the best shooter in a contest and granted him tax exemption for a year. This tradition is celebrated with a festival every two years and continues to shape the city’s self-image and perception all year round.

Always popular is the annual Jazz Summer Night, an open-air jazz festival organised by the Jazz Club Minden featuring jazz musicians like Al Jarreau, Dave Brubeck and Klaus Doldinger. Another music festival is the Weserlieder, an open-air rock festival. Established in 2003, it is becoming more and more popular. The festival is located at the Amphitheater near the River Weser, which is said to be one of the most beautiful places in Minden in summer time.

In May and November, the working and student life is brightened by the Mindener Messe, a funfair situated directly at the Weser riverside. With more than 130 performers, fairground rides and stalls, you are set for a fun day out!
